

THE GENETIC GRID

by Dr. Robert Gerard

Within our DNA, there is a very unique field of consciousness that reflects our Divine origins. I have a particular interest in this field of consciousness because of its behavior—expanding and uniting with similar fields. I believe that these fields serve humanity and generate a unifying field of social-consciousness.

Consciousness drives cellular behavior and has the power to influence an environmental outcome. Science has already proven how the observer's consciousness can affect the outcome of the experiment. Notably, in 1952, on the Island of Kishoma, research entitled the "Hundredth Monkey" phenomenon inferred that when a limited number of individuals know a 'new way', it remains the conscious property of those individuals. However, when more individuals manifest this new awareness, the field is strengthened, a critical mass is reached, and the awareness becomes the conscious property of all. This new awareness is communicated mind to mind (From The Hundredth Monkey by Ken Keyes Jr.). Behavioral and social scientists know that consciousness influences behavior. Once there is a behavior, there is an experience, and thus wisdom becomes grounded in physical expression.

According to the renowned Japanese Biologist, Dr. T. Kishina, civilizations have their roots within humanity's collective DNA. He theorized that the human biological design has masterminded its own Spiritual survival. He suggests that our DNA proliferates toward a purer emotional state of existence because it possesses the wisdom to flourish and achieve a higher state of existence—Spirituality.

I speculate that the essence of our Divine Nature is rooted within our DNA. By some radical means, when the DNA gets activated—a codon acceleration and expansion process—a higher functioning field of consciousness becomes dynamic. From the results of my work in the field of holistic psychology, performing DNA Activations with clients, and through observing the global community's increasing impetus for world peace, I find this field to be an inherent aspect of royalty encoded for the Human Spirit.

On a global level, the collective expression of this field of consciousness is what I term the "Genetic Grid." The "Grid" is beyond philosophical theory. More concretely, it is anchored into physical DNA. Herein lies the key principle—the Genetic Grid functions behaviorally. In this behavior, the genetic properties of our royalty—that is, our Divine Nature—becomes our environment.

It is important for each of us to absorb the concept the Genetic Grid. Though unseen, the Grid coalesces with the mechanics of Earth Consciousness. This could be envisioned as a white glow around the planet. Imagining this concept creates it. Each of us must fulfill our destiny—our purpose in Life. Creating one soul, one humanity, one heart generates Unity Consciousness. In turn, Unity Consciousness reunites us with inner and outer God—our loving Intelligence or Infinite Being. The Genetic Grid symbolizes this process. The inherent wisdom of this environment can be unleashed and become a great and most powerful resource for change. How? Because, with the activation of the Genetic Grid, Spirit now has the mechanism to create. Previously, Spirit could only influence. With this construct in place, the collective body that orchestrates the Genetic Grid can become a major player in redefining humanity's social, political, and spiritual environments.

The Genetic Grid is not a theory; it's a physical force. Once collectively anchored as a unifying field of social consciousness, it will evolve to become one of the prime methods for Spirit to create change on the planet. As the Genetic Grid expands, it's collective field of consciousness becomes a balancing force to that energy which sustains materialism and consumer consciousness. Eventually, it becomes the vehicle fostering Divine Duality that eradicates the pitfalls of materialistic duality.

Permit me to position my point of view. Evil is the absence of love and can be expressed as the opposing forces of duality. Darkness and shadows of life are its expressions. The misuse of money and selfish quest for power offset global love and constantly agitate materialistic duality. Notwithstanding, money is beautiful, for it represents a unique flow of earthly energy. Money can serve mankind when properly used as a loving energy. Unfortunately, most of money and power are controlled by the upper few percent of our society—indeed, a very influential subculture.

To maintain control without intrusion, this select few protect themselves behind invisible layers—likened to a yoke of an egg. Where do these layers exist? We know that every egg has a shell, a shell membrane, the white albumen, and then another membrane around the yellow yoke. These peripheral constructs serve as layers of protection. When you take a closer look, you may realize the alternative use of the police, civil and corporate law, and the many socio-economic barriers that are in place, just as the nucleus of an egg is protected. Sadly enough, we are ironically and consciously motivated to serve this subculture.

How can this influential subculture of controlling self-interest better blend and become more attuned with the rest of our societies—that is, softened with love—is Spirit's job. To do this, the Genetic Grid must be in place. When Spirit wants to incur social change on Earth, it needs to create a behavioral change. Spirit needs to be genetically anchored in our DNA as a creative force, not solely as an influential force. If this paradox were not true, then Spirit would have already made the necessary social and environmental shifts for the sake of improving the condition of humanity. But Spirit cannot, except through enlightenment, and that's a slow process.

Moses, Akhanaten, Abraham, Buddha, Jesus, and Mohammed all came as Enlightened Beings. They initiated many schools of thought and many religions. Theology and theory are slow and ineffective because their use of intellectualization and rational thinking is not grounded in the body. Spirit's word for humanity needs to be grounded, as the Bible clearly states, "...the word was made flesh..." Once Spirit has genetic behavior in place, it can express itself on Earth and begin to create the environment of a Divine Duality we call Heaven.

We are the true kings and queens of our civilization. Who, in any culture or subculture was truly appointed a king and a queen by God or an Infinite Being—no one, not as of late, anyway. Man made coronations have interfered with the Divine Plan for centuries. It's time for Spirit to do its own work of remodeling the behavior of our society. Spirit needs to be anchored on the Earth Plane genetically. This is why so much focus is being placed on raising consciousness and the unfolding function of our DNA. Existing within our genetic codes are the archetypal codes of our beauty and royalty. Herein lies the field of consciousness that will set our society free. As the Divine Plan unfolds: the Unified Field of Unity Consciousness can finally be ascertained and expressed.

The Genetic Grid comprises every human being who has experienced an acceleration of his or her DNA. This evolving population includes, but is not limited to, those who have had near death experiences (NDE), some form of DNA Activation, DNA Activations through music and sound, or rebirth in their acceptance of the Mother-Father God Principles. It also includes Indigo children, their parents and grandparents, those who are in the process of attaining higher consciousness with the conscious goal of service to one's Highest Good, and the Highest Good of others.

In summary, Spirit's success on Earth depends on our human ability to increase the conscious and physical acceleration of our DNA. It depends on our behavior expressed in a royal fashion—for we are all royal beings. Let's strive to generate a global Genetic Grid through expressing our royal selves. Let's not get off the planet, but rather change the way we live on it and let Spirit do the rest.
